APRESENTAÇÃO

As comemorações do bicentenário da imigração e colonização alemã proporcionam o grato ensejo de vir a lume a obra de FANNY WEIMER e GÜNTER WEIMER, sob o título de A COMUNIDADE EVANGÉLICA DE PORTO ALEGRE.

Embora sejam numerosos os títulos editados sobre a imigração e a colonização germânica no Rio Grande do Sul e, de resto, nos outros estados do Brasil onde elas se verificaram, como sobre a participação de alemães e seus descendentes e de suas instituições na sociedade, na política, na economia e no processo cultural, a participação dos teutos e teuto-descendentes, face à amplitude de suas ações e influência, ainda não foi totalmente mapeada.

No âmbito do esforço de seguir as pegadas daquele imigrante e da repercussão de seu labor inscreve-se a alentada investigação de FANNY WEIMER e GÜNTER WEIMER.

Dizer que uma obra preenche uma lacuna é um lugar comum, mas é verdade que, até o momento, a bibliografia sobre o tema não indexa nenhum registro que abranja tamanha quantidade de informações sobre a Comunidade Evangélica de Porto Alegre, apresentada de forma sistemática, com reflexões fundadas em pesquisas empíricas aturadas, consulta à bibliografia, a acervos documentais e hemerotecas, sempre orientado pela mais adequada metodologia.

Não pode passar despercebido o labor de Fanny Weimer na tradução de textos formulados na escrita gótica, hoje de raríssima compreensão.

Os estudos e a reflexões dos autores não se circunscrevem apenas à descrição da comunidade evangélica. Contextualiza-a. Vai além e esclarece a origem e a especificidade das diversas levas de imigrantes e as motivações para a imigração. A procedência daquelas famílias que, de estados da Europa Central, oriundos da desintegração do antigo Império Romano-Germânico, se deslocaram para o Brasil sempre foi objeto de incessantes indagações. A unificação da Alemanha dá-se pouco menos de meio século depois do celebrado dia 25 de julho de 1824, quando chegaram ao Faxinal do Courita e foram albergados na velha Casa da Feitoria do Linho Cânhamo, trinta e três indivíduos evangélicos de confissão luterana e seis de confissão católica. A esses primeiros migrantes, oriundos da Bavária, de Hamburgo, de Munique e de Holstein, vieram juntar-se, até 1830, mais cinco mil e trezentos.

Esclarecedoramente, é indicado que entre os migrantes teuto-descendentes vieram, embora em número diminuto, indivíduos de outras procedências, inclusive da África.

O projeto de colonização da Colônia de São Leopoldo, concebido por José Feliciano Fernandes Pinheiro, magistrado e presidente da Província, deu frutos imediatos. Seu êxito foi logo reconhecido e seu sucesso foi um exemplo decisório de colonização europeia pelo governo imperial, conforme a historiadora Vânia Heredia[1].

A pesquisa é incomum e satisfaz as questões e as dúvidas, a curiosidade e o interesse do leitor, retifica os equívocos e aviventa rumos, desfaz lendas e desconstrói

O INSTITUTO HISTÓRICO E GEOGRÁFICO DO RIO GRANDE DO SUL, através de seu presidente, tem a satisfação de apresentar essa obra, recomendar sua leitura e preconizar que os pesquisadores dos amplos campos de conhecimento dos movimentos migratórios, da colonização e da interculturalidade sirvam-se dela para subsidiar novas abordagens sobre a memória da imigração de 1824 no Rio Grande do Sul.

A COMUNIDADE EVANGÉLICA DE PORTO-ALEGRE

INTRODUÇÃO

A presença dos primeiros de alemães no Rio Grande do Sul remonta ao século XVII com os membros da Companhia de Jesus que aqui estiveram como participantes do projeto de cristianização dos indígenas. Com a expulsão dos jesuítas que aconteceu em 1759, estes alemães voltaram à Europa. Só em fins do século XVIII tem-se notícias da presença de outros alemães que aqui se estabeleceram ou passaram na qualidade de viajantes. Sabemos que tenente-general Johann Heinrich Böhm veio para ao estado em 1775 e participou da retomada de Rio Grande em 1776; em 1797 Nikolaus Becker se estabeleceu em Rio Grande; em 1810 veio ao estado Wilhelm Christian Gotthelf von Feldner como protagonista de uma missão científica para estudar as jazidas carboníferas no vale do Rio Jacuí; o botânico, mineralogista e geólogo Friedrich Sellow veio ao Rio Grande do Sul em 1823 onde permaneceu até 1827. Estes provavelmente não foram os únicos que por aqui passaram antes da chegada em 1824 da primeira leva de imigrantes.

O projeto de colonização alemã, em verdade, começou a ser estruturado após o retorno da Família Real portuguesa para Lisboa, em 1816. Sob a regência do príncipe herdeiro começaram a ser tomadas iniciativas de fundar uma cidade-residência em serras próximas à capital da colônia, na forma do que estava em moda na Europa, com aspectos e características europeias. Assim, em 1818, foram trazidos os primeiros agricultores alemães – isto é, de fala alemã – pois a maioria era formada por suíços, que se estabeleceram em Petrópolis e Nova Friburgo.

Com a declaração de independência, as tropas portuguesas estabelecidas no Rio de Janeiro recuaram para Salvador onde sua resistência oferecia perigos para a manutenção da integridade do país e, mais do que isso, ameaçava com o retorno do país à condição de colônia. No sentido de garantir a independência do país, novas colônias de alemães foram criadas nos entornos da atual divisa entre Minas Gerais e Bahia. Porém, quando as tropas lusitanas foram expulsas em 2 de julho de 1823, este projeto foi abandonado e as atenções se voltaram para o sul do país onde haviam fortes tensões referentes ao domínio territorial da região. Então, os colonos que estavam sendo angariados passaram a ser encaminhados para esta região com o propósito de fixação de população que legitimasse a posse territorial e com o fim de garantir uma fonte de abastecimento para o caso de as confrontações evoluírem luta armada.

Estas intenções do governo central, no entanto, entraram em conflito com os interesses dos grandes latifundiários que haviam sido generosamente aquinhoados com extensas propriedades onde era praticada a criação do gado que havia sido aqui introduzida pelos padres da Companhia. Com a expulsão dos jesuítas, este gado foi abandonado e foi apropriado pelos sesmeiros portugueses. Estes latifundiários se apoderaram da política regional e viam com muitas preocupações a presença de agricultores que passaram a ser tidos como ameaça para a hegemonia do poder político. Por isso, o governo regional obstaculizava qualquer iniciativa que visava atender as necessidades dos colonos e procuravam delegar ao governo central estes encargos. Isso, certamente, foi a razão principal pela qual a imigração alemã foi identificada como sendo exclusivamente de agricultores.

Acontece, porém, que nem todos a imigrantes se dedicavam às lides do campo e um bom número era de comerciantes e artesãos que acabaram por se estabelecer nas diversas vilas que estavam se formando na então Província de São Pedro do Rio Grande do Sul, sendo que a maior parte se fixou na Vila de Porto Alegre. Esta facção de imigrantes foi melhor aceita por trazer contribuições tecnológicas e comerciais inovadoras. Em meados do século XIX já formavam cerca de 15% da população.

Por sua competência, estes imigrados começaram a se expandir se tornando comerciantes mais prósperos e ameaçavam monopolizar as atividades artesanais. Estas foram razões que levaram ao surgimento de fricções entre alemães e nacionais na cidade. Para isso também deve ter contribuído a fato de falarem uma língua ininteligível para os nacionais, por praticarem, majoritariamente, uma religião tida com herética, por manterem relações sociais preferenciais entre si e por preferirem se estabelecer em bairro à parte, no setor norte, nos entornos da Igreja do Rosário.

O surgimento desta clivagem na sociedade da capital se materializou na formação de uma Associação de Auxílio Mútuo Alemã com a finalidade de acolher imigrantes pobres, na fundação de uma escola étnica (a Hilfsvereinschule), de clubes sociais próprios e de uma igreja protestante, hoje Igreja Evangélica de Confissão Luterana, que era considerada como herética pelos nacionais. Noutros termos, foi se formando uma sociedade à parte, dentro da sociedade nacional. A Comunidade foi fundada em 1859 e seu primeiro pároco foi o pastor leigo Erdmann Georg Richard Ernst Wolfram. Isso quer dizer, sua criação aconteceu três décadas e meia depois do início oficial da imigração alemã para o Rio Grande do Sul. Na falta de dados estatísticos confiáveis, é difícil avaliar qual foi o percentual de alemães (natos ou descendentes) na sociedade porto-alegrense. Segundo os relatos dos viajantes que passaram pela cidade em meados do século XIX, a população da cidade era avaliada em 20.000 habitantes entre os quais cerca de 15% eram alemães natos ou seus descendentes.

Aqui é importante assinalar que a fundação da segunda comunidade evangélica no Rio Grande do Sul, ela recebeu por encargo abranger todas a região sul e centro-oeste da Província, incluindo o Alto Taquari. Dada as dificuldades da comunicação então existentes, os assentamentos de batizados e casamentos dos interioranos era precária. Nos assentamentos de batizados destes paroquianos, não constam os nomes dos padrinhos nem as testemunhas dos casamentos. Claro está que estas dificuldades levaram à fundação de novas paróquias o que é perceptível na progressiva redução de registros dos membros do interior. Como ficou evidenciado, nem sempre os registros dos paroquianos residentes em Porto Alegre eram completos, nem sempre foi possível encontrara evidências sobre os locais de residência dos membros. Todavia, ao longo do período a circunscrição dos atendidos se limitava a Porto Alegre e vizinhanças como Guaíba (Sertão de Santana e Barro do Ribeiro) que ainda fazia parte do município da capital.

Foi a partir destes registros que organizamos a presente listagem. A maioria dos escritos genealógicos estão voltados para os imigrantes propriamente ditos. A nós nos interessava mais as características desta sociedade – além da origem de seus constituintes - em razão estendemos os verbetes para todos os citados no período que se estendem desde a fundação até a II Guerra Mundial. A primeira das razões para a fixação deste período temporal foi o fato de que, a partir de então, o germanismo começou a se dissolver numa progressiva integração na sociedade nacional. Além disso, os duros anos que precederam a guerra, a comunidade começou a se desmembrar com a criação da paróquia Martin Luther, em 1936 no bairro Higienópolis e, da Paz, no após-guerra, em Navegantes. Outra razão foi o fato de que os registros eram feitos de letra cursiva gótica cuja leitura vai se tornando mais restritivo e, por isso mesmo, de difícil acesso. Isso me afetou diretamente. Para superar minhas limitações, contei que o auxílio inestimável de minha mãe Fanny Weimer que transcreveu estes registros para a escrita latina, sem o que não teria condições de realizar o presente trabalho. Não menos decisivo foi o fato de que o livro do pastor Wilhelm Wolf[2] que utilizamos em larga escala para fixar a metodologia de nossos estudos no que diz respeito a comparações que pretendíamos realizar, também abrange este lapso.

Desta forma foram organizados os dados em 12.920 verbetes que estamos colocando à disposição dos pesquisadores e interessados. Foram relativamente poucos os registros que indicavam a profissão dos paroquianos. Os registros das profissões destes paroquianos mostram claramente o grande incremento econômico que os mesmos deram à cidade.

Como sempre há um grande interesse em saber qual a origem dos imigrantes, organizamos as seguintes tabelas que mostram as especificidades desta sociedade. Em verdade, o qualificativo de "imigração alemã", na realidade serviu como um grande guarda-chuva que abrigava um significativo número de imigrantes que não eram originários dos estados que viriam a formar a Alemanha cuja unificação só ocorreu a partir de 1871. Esta foi uma questão que preocupou desde o início. As sucessivas guerras e reordenação dos estados nacionais foram modificando sucessivamente a alegada nacionalidades dos imigrantes. Para exemplificar, Schleswig-Holstein era um território dinamarquês que foi incorporado à Alemanha, a Prússia Oriental hoje constitui território polonês, a Silésia está dividida entre a Polônia, a Tchéquia e um pequena parte ficou com a Alemanha, os estados do nordeste da França fizeram parte da Alemanha, contudo Saarland permaneceu alemão depois da "devolução" dos mesmos à França. Estes são apenas as questões mais simples. Além disso, com a modificação das nacionalidades, os entes geográficos mudaram de nome, o que se constitui motivo de muitas complicações. Na tentativa de simplificar estes problemas, foi tomada a resolução de adotar como qualificativo a situação atual destas regiões, cidades, vilas, etc. Disso resultou que mais de um quarto dos membros da Comunidade não tivessem nacionalidade alemã, conforme mostra a tabela seguinte:

Número de imigrantes segundo a nacionalidade

Alemães	1673	71.96
Não alemães	618	26.58
Nacionalidade desconhecida	34	1,46
Total	2325	100.00

Estes levantamentos também mostraram que o perfil da origem regional dos porto-alegrenses diferia em larga escala da dos imigrantes assentados em São Leopoldo e adjacências onde aproximadamente dois terços vieram da Renânia-Palatinado enquanto, em Porto Alegre, aproximadamente, um quinto veio daquela região como é mostrado na tabela seguinte:

Dada a variedade da origem destes imigrantes, fica evidente sua heterogeneidade. Em sua maioria, eram de origem teuta. Devido a origem diversificada, não foram poucos os que eram provenientes de denominações não luteranas, mas se filiaram a ela por ser a única protestante existente na cidade.

Foi surpreendente o baixo número/percentual de imigrantes de origem urbana. Pelo fato de terem se estabelecido na cidade, seria de esperar que já fossem pessoas urbanizadas. Para além dos frios números levantados, deve ser levado em consideração que um número expressivo alegava serem originários da cidade de Hamburgo que era sabidamente o principal porto de embarque dos imigrantes o que significa que, muito provavelmente, eles não eram residentes nesta cidade. Disso se deduz que o percentual dos urbanizados era bem menor. Disso se deduz que os problemas alemães que estavam levando à emigração estavam localizados principalmente em zonas rural.

Curioso também é o fato de que a distribuição destes imigrantes difere amplamente dos de origem rural. Enquanto a absoluta maioria dos imigrantes de São Leopoldo e adjacências provinham dos estados renanos, é marcante a vinda dos urbanizados estabelecidos em Porto Alegre do sul e do leste daquele país.

É compreensível que a maior demanda de informações seja a da origem dos imigrantes, mas não foi esta a única motivação que nos moveu para realização destes levantamentos. Desde o início era nossa intenção conhecer o tipo de relações internas deste grupo e com a sociedade envolvente, do tipo de atividades desempenhadas e, principalmente, qual o grau de participação dos teutos nas transformações internas dos modos de produção. É evidente que a transformação de uma sociedade basicamente de agricultores para uma industrial haveria de causar profundos conflitos internos e que, em última análise, era a causadora do processo da emigração. Porém, a isenção desta sociedade em outra baseada na exploração de mão de obra escravizada e na pecuária em latifúndios de tamanhos inimagináveis diante das nesgas de terra em que haviam se formado as propriedades rurais na Alemanha, certamente não haveriam de se configurar em visões de mundo não menos conflitantes que os deixados para trás. Mais do que isso, a confrontação de concepções religiosas caracterizadas por um fundamentalismo evangélico protestante diante de um catolicismo bem diferente do alemão e caracterizado por um formalismo popular que coadunava mais com os interesses políticos governamentais baseados no padroado régio do que com as orientações do Vaticano, certamente haveriam de levar a confrontos de monta. Tanto isso era verdade que os católicos teutos acabaram por formar uma comunidade própria dentro do catolicismo nacional. Estas foram motivações que levaram a que fossem incluídas relações de compadrio nestes levantamentos, não só para atender as relações afetivas e familiares, como pelo simples fato de se estabelecer evidências documentais da presença de integrantes que, de outra forma, dificilmente poderiam ser confirmadas.

Estes são temas que requerem estudos específicos e que divergem bastante dos conhecimentos que normalmente constam nos tratados tradicionais. Para exemplificar citamos o processo de industrialização em nosso Estado. Enquanto na Alemanha, estas transformações ocorreram da conjugação de três forças diferente, uma formada por artesãos criativos que tinham a capacidade de imaginar processos técnicos mais produtivos, associada com elementos mais progressistas oriundos da baixa nobreza empobrecida, mas com bom trânsito nas esferas políticas e com burgueses (ou seja, de comerciantes enriquecidos) de consciencioso conhecimento do mercado de consumo, aqui estas relações divergiam profundamente. Em primeiro lugar, o processo de industrialização foi importado e implantado com métodos que já haviam passado por certo desenvolvimento no qual os artesãos já haviam se proletarizado em larga escala, a nobreza brasileira era de nomeação, majoritariamente, de origem rural e à qual faltavam as nobrezas de sangue supostamente ungidas pela graça divina e, em terceiro lugar, não foram os comerciantes de maior poder pecuniário que impulsionaram este processo, mas pessoas oriundas do baixo comércio – especialmente, dos caixeiros viajantes – que encontraram seu apoio financeiro numa rede regional de bancos privados. Estas foram diferenças fundamentais e que se constituem apenas numa das perspectivas de temas passiveis de serem desenvolvidos através dos dados levantados e que esperamos passam servir de apoio a outros temas de interesse para o conhecimento de nossa sociedade.
